

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE
Security Committee

13 Nov '78

MEMORANDUM FOR: [REDACTED] Special Assistant to the DCI
FROM: [REDACTED] Chief/CSG
SUBJECT: Clearance
Product Versus Operational Accesses

STAT

STAT

1. The Central Intelligence Agency provides a service of common concern to the intelligence community by maintaining and verifying special access approvals to certain compartmented intelligence programs. This service is provided through the computerized listing [REDACTED] of the identity of individuals and their sponsoring/parent organization.

STAT

2. Not all departments and agencies avail themselves of this service. However, all TK and [REDACTED] projects are listed.

STAT

3. [REDACTED]

STAT

[REDACTED] Analysis of the [REDACTED] data base should afford some indication of the spread of information about the collection procedures into the population of intelligence consumers.

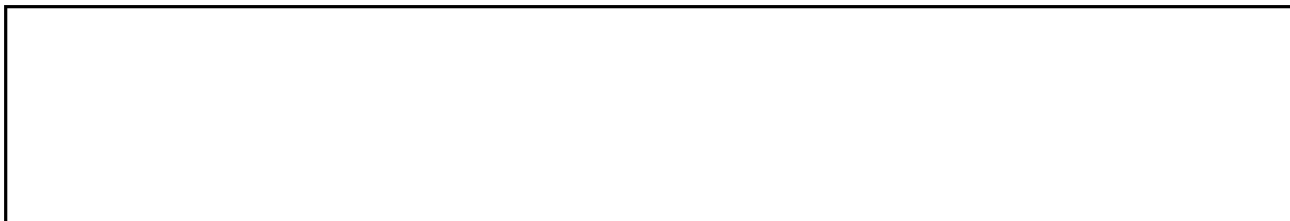

STAT

STAT

78/140

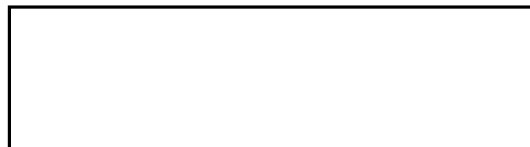

STAT

Approved For Release 2005/03/30 : CIA-RDP82M00591R000100040061-1

6. Thus in these two examples we see that there has been spread of operational data into the world of intelligence users.

7. The attached material address similar indication of operational data in Non NFIB agencies; NFIB agencies and others.

STAT

Attachment

Distribution:

Orig - Addressee
✓ 1 - Chrono
1 - Subject

STAT

SECOM/[redacted]fh (13 Nov 78)

STAT

Approved For Release 2005/03/30 : CIA-RDP82M00591R000100040061-1

Next 2 Page(s) In Document Exempt

Approved For Release 2005/03/30 : CIA-RDP82M00591R000100040061-1